4.  buzzed me to say that the Inspector General would like to start a survey of the Office of Logistics early in January. He said that they planned to put Donald  on the survey. I am afraid that I was a little outspoken in expressing my regret that no one on this team would have any competence in the Logistics field; however, I consider it a fact that they don't have anyone on the IG's Staff who has any competence in this field. I have notified Jim Garrison that he can expect them early in January.

6. [REDACTED] telephoned to inquire as to where [REDACTED] with which his son is connected should forward some information they have on computers in order to insure that it receives the proper attention. I asked him to send it to me and assured him that I would put it in the hands of the proper people.
